A ROUND OF TALK.

The February Three

(McLamburgh Wilson in N. Y. Sun.)
Glad your visit's come around
As the seasons vary
Glad you brought your children too.
Welcome, February—
Welcome to the weary world,
Often dull and stupid.
Howdy, George and Honest Abe?
Howdy, Little Cupid?
Strange trimmings are you—
Everyone a splitter.
Cherry trees and rails and hearts
Makes your name to glitter.
Come and make yourselves at home
Holidays and laughter.
Stay not just one fleeting month.
But the whole year after.

CHARLIE MCCHORD—The many friends of G. C. McChord at his home town as well as all over the State will be glad to learn that the prospects are that he will have easy sailing in his race for reelection as Railroad Commissioner. At a meeting of the committee at Frankfort last week to determine the time and manner of selecting the nominee Mr. McChord got about everything he wanted. An early primary is called, April 2, which McChord's friends say insures him a clear track for the nomination. J. S. Bots, of Lexington, the only other candidate announced for the place, made a vigorous appeal for a convention, setting forth stronger reasons why it would be better for the candidates and the party. Failing to secure his plan he announced that he would comply with the conditions imposed. Representative Thomas Drewery, of Louisville who had been mentioned as a possible candidate, was not present and had no representative before the committee. Reports during the past several days that he would not be a candidate were confirmed. The date of April 2 was selected in order that some expense might be eliminated. An entrance fee of $6,000 was fixed by the committee and a sub-committee, composed of Committeemen, Fitch, Hindman and Spalding, appointed to arrange the details for the election. It is provided in the call that in the event that there is no more than one candidate, who shall have notified the chairman before March 12, of his intention to become a candidate the committee will call off the primary and declare the candidate the nominee.

LEBANON LOCAL OPTION.—Lebanon is at present in the throes of a local option campaign. The election is set for March 26th next and both sides are hard at work. The two local papers of Lebanon by the way seem to be working both sides of the street in the fight. They publish each week a large amount of paid matter from each side of the controversy, probably going on the theory that "it's an ill wind that blows nobody good." Judging from expressions of opinion of citizens who should be well posted on the situation we would say that the saloons in Lebanon are doomed to go out of existence when the question is submitted to the people. A powerful influence in the temperance side of the question is that being wielded by Father J. A. Hogarty of the Catholic church, who is president of the Anti Saloon League, and who has always been an active worker among his people in the cause of temperance. In case local option carries at the election in March, the saloons will go out of existence in May as that is the time when all licenses expire and there will be of course no renewal. It will thus come about that Lebanon will be "dry" several months before Springfield is owing to the fact that several of the licenses of local saloons have until August to run. The result of the local option contest is awaited with interest by Springfield citizens.

POLITICAL.—Although it is rather early in the action to make predictions still there is considerable political gossip going the rounds locally concerning possible candidates for the Democratic nomination for Representative in the lower house as well as for State Senator to be held this fall and the nominations are to be made some time this Spring. Among those who have been mentioned as possible candidates for the nomination for Representative are Dr. W. W. Hyatt, C. F. Bosley, W. S. Y. Goodlet and Joseph M. Begley. It is Washington county's time to furnish the candidate for senate who is to represent the counties of Washington, Marion and Taylor. Candidates for this honor appear to be scarce at present, but they will probably be heard from later on.

SURPRISED.—A good many taxpayers of the town who have contracted the habit of taking their own time are being treated to a little surprise during the last few days by being presented with a tax warrant which calls for immediate settlement of all taxes and in addition quite a little sum in the shape of costs. The collecting of taxes this year is conducted on rather a different basis than formerly. Instead of having a collector call on the taxpayer that individual is expected to call on the City Treasurer and pay at certain time or suffer the penalty which amounts to a considerable amount all told. All who have not paid by November 1st are marked delinquent and a tax warrant is issued which if not settled calls for a levy and sale of any property which delinquent may possess. In case of persons delinquent on poll tax it possesses no property he is published in the list of delinquent taxpayers.

Rising From the Grave.—A prominent manufacturer, Wm. A. Fortwell, of Lucas, N. C., relates a most remarkable experience. He says: "After taking less than three bottles of Electric Bitters, I feel like one rising from the grave. My trouble is Bright's disease, in the Diabetes stage. I fully believe Electric Bitters will cure me permanently, for it has already stopped the liver and bladder complication which have troubled me for years." Guaranteed at C. J. Haydon druggist. Price only 75c.

Was Talking Sense.

Doe Hatchett, colored, and Garfield Divine were held to the grand jury in $200 each on a grand jury charge by Judge Hughes last Friday. Hatchett is the man who forced the 15 year old Derringer boy to trade horses with him near Salvisa last week, an account of which was published in this paper. Hatchett testified that when the boy said he would take "135" to boot, he asked him if he was talking "cents," and the boy said he was. The boy thought the other meant "sense." It was plainly evident that the negro knew the boy meant dollars. The horse the negro "traded" belonged to Divine, who tendered Derringer $1.35, which the lad refused to accept, and then Hatchett forcibly took the animal from young Derringer.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Hovel's germ-killing medication is the only sensible and safe way of curing catarrh. Goes right to the spot. Breathed through the nose and mouth. Guaranteed to cure or money refunded. Told by the Red Cross Drug Store.

A New Kind of Hen.

Mr. Henry Junius, who was in Memphis last week, writes us the following from Grenada, Miss.: "A commission [merchant in Memphis on opening up his store one morning last week heard a young chick crying. Wondering what it could be, he made a search for it among the coops of hens in his store and finally discovered it in a coop containing a dozen hens. It was about two days old and crippled by the hens in the coop. There was no sign of egg shells and after wondering how it got there, for the hens had not been in the coop long enough to lay an egg and hatch it, he concluded he had discovered a new breed of hens which laid chickens instead of the old way of laying eggs and sitting on them. There were only twelve hens in the coop so he decided to send them home and keep that one it was a cock. He was so offered a reward of $5 each for the four hens that had been in the coop two days before. He put the chick in a paper box to take home at night, but it died before evening. He was very much chagrined over his loss as he thought he had a wonderful find. I saw the chick."—Harrodsburg Herald.

"I've lived in California 20 years, and am still hunting for trouble in the way of burns, sores, wounds, boils, eruptions, or a case of piles that Bucklen's Arnica Salve won't quickly cure," writes Charles Walters, of Allegheny, Sierra Co. ## IN OPERATION

The Washington County Creamery Begins Operations and Turns Out Butter.

The Washington County Creamery began operations on last Saturday and has been turning out butter at regular intervals since. The butter is of a good quality and will command the highest market price paid for creamery butter. While the quantity of milk supplied to the creamery is not as great as the beginning is it will be later on there was enough to justify the operation of the creamery and the management is much encouraged over the prospect of success. Mr. Arthur Gostley who has had several years of practical experience in operating creameries in the West is in charge and as the new plant is equipped with all up-to-date machinery there is no reason why the venture should not be a success from the beginning.

Of course all realize that this is an unfavorable time to begin operations and the output of the creamery is expected to be increased later on as spring opens up when the farmers will be able to furnish more cows to supply the milk.

Neighbors Got Pooled

"I was literally coughing myself to death and had become too weak to leave my bed; and neighbors predicted that I would never leave it alive; but they got fooled, for thanks be to God, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It took just four one dollar bottles to completely cure the cough and restore me to good sound health," writes Mrs. Eva Uncephor, of Grovetown, Stark county, Ind. This King of cough and cold cures, and healer of throat and lung trouble is guaranteed by C. J. Haydon druggist Sec. and $1.00 Trial bottle free.

Blue Grass Fair.

The newly elected Board of Directors of the Blue Grass Fair Association met at the office of the Association at Lexington on Thursday, January 24th, and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: James L. Watkins of Lexington President; J. W. Newman, of Versailles, First Vice President; Abram Renick, of Winchester, Second Vice President; J. H. Shouse, of Lexington, Secretary; and J. W. Porter, of Lexington, Treasurer. There was a full meeting of the Directors and the selection in each instance was unanimous. It will be endeavored by the Association to secure permanent grounds for the Blue Grass Fair. There is at Lexington the oldest and most historic race course in America, the famous Kentucky Association track, owned by the estate of the late Capt. Samuel S. Brown. Under the rulings of the Pennsylvania Courts a track must be sold and a committee from the Directors of the Blue Grass Fair Association, consisting of some of the best

A Sermon.

There are more young men in penitentiaries than in this country learning trades than there are outside of them learning trades. The principle cause of this is that we are educating our young men for idle gentlemen, preachers, doctors and clerks out of material that is needed for blacksmiths, carpenters, merchants, and other honest "hewers of wood and drawers of water." It is a mistake, and a big one, to teach boys and girls to believe that labor is disgraceful, and to do nothing for a living is more becoming society. Hang such society! It is rotten to the core and is ruining our country today; and there are sons and daughters who are now being educated to play the "leading lady" and "walking gentleman" in the great drama of life, who will light out for the poor house or the penitentiary before the curtain drops on the last act of the play to which they have been educated by their too indulgent parents.

MESSINGER BOY'S LEMON.

RETURNED $50,000 He Found. Then Spoke Back. The reward of $50,000 offered by the National Bank of New York for the boy who had stolen $100,000 from the bank was returned to the bank by the boy who had stolen it. The boy, who was named "Messinger," had stolen the money from the bank and had been caught by the bank's detectives. The bank had offered a reward of $50,000 for the boy who had stolen the money, but the boy had returned the money to the bank and had spoken back to the bank's detectives.

It is a mistake to think that the boy who had stolen the money was a "bad" boy. He was a "good" boy who had been misled by a "bad" man. The boy had been told by a "bad" man that he could make a lot of money by stealing from the bank. The boy had believed the "bad" man and had stolen the money. But the boy had returned the money to the bank and had spoken back to the bank's detectives. This shows that the boy was a "good" boy who had been misled by a "bad" man.

Rev. R. E. C. Lawson will assume his duties as pastor of the Presbyterian church the first Sabbath in March. He expects to arrive here on the 25th inst.
The church is very fortunate in securing the services of so able a minister and as this is Mr.
Lawson's second experience as pastor of this church he comes not as a stranger but as an old friend to his home.

Mr. Hanson Robertson a popular young farmer of the Texas neighborhood was taken to Cincinnati this week for treatment in a private sanatorium for mental trouble. Some time ago Mr.

Robertson's eyes became affected and he finally lost his eyesight entirely. Recently his mind has become deranged. He is an industrious young farmer and has a family. His many friends will learn with regret of his sad affliction.

Dr. J. H. Lampton has received a copy of a report gotten out by the Prudential Life Insurance Co., in which the work of its agents throughout the country is reviewed. Dr. Lampton's son, Dinwiddie Lampton, of Louisville, although quite young in the business has a record near the top as successful agents for the Prudential Life.

Mr. William Medley, the expert book keeper for the Kentucky Supply Company, has handed in his resignation to take effect the middle of February. He will go to Owensboro to keep books for his father, who operates one of the largest distilleries at that point and manufactures the famous "Kentucky Club." Mr. Medley has made many friends since coming to Danville who will regret to know of his intended change of location. His successor has not been chosen.—Danville

Little Julia Muir, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Wells, of Lebanon, narrowly escaped a horrible death by fire Monday morning. Mrs. Wells had removed the fire screen and fender from the grate and had taken out the ashes. While out the child turned her back to the fire and her clothing was ignited.
Miss Sadie Mayes, who is visiting Mrs. Wells, was in the room and threw a blanket around the child and smothered the flames.
The little one's back and arms were badly burned and the hair on the back of her head burned off. Mrs. Wells in her attempt to smother the flames was badly burned on the hands. Miss Mayes' hands were slightly burned also.

Hamilton-Hamilton

A wedding that was quite a surprise to their friends occurred in Louisville Wednesday morning at St. Mary Magdalen's church. The contracting parties were Miss Mary Hamilton and Dr. S. F. Hamilton both of the Fredericktown neighborhood. Rev. Father Pieters pastor of the Catholic church at Fredericktown, a companioned the young people to Louisville and performed the ceremony.
Miss Hamilton is the daughter of Mrs. Sallie Hamilton and is an accomplished young lady. Dr.
Hamilton is a son of Mr. Alex Hamilton and is a young man of sterling qualities and enjoys a lucrative practice in his profession. They will return to Fredericktown today.

To The Public.

It was with regret that I tendered my resignation as President of Central Bank, of Williamsburg, Ky. But having sold my farm at that place and having purchased one in the south end of the county, I could no longer do justice to the institution as President. But, it gives me great pleasure to say, the bank is in a most prosperous condition and its deposits are growing rapidly, hence I heartily recommend it to the public as a safe and trustworthy institution, as it is managed by a directory of good, financial, business men.

A Sad Death.

Mrs. Elizabeth Davis Williams wife of Dr. Rodman Williams and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S.
C. VanArsdale died at her home at Litesay on last Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, from a bowel trouble, a complication it was thought which was the effects of a severe spell of typhoid fever from which she suffered last fall.
The deceased was a young woman of a most lovable character.
She was a particular favorite among the good people of the Pleasant Grove neighborhood where she had spent her life and indeed was admired for her sterling qualities of character wherever she was known. Mrs.
Williams was born on November 23, 1882 and in June 1905 was married to Dr. Rodman Williams.
She united with the Pleasant Grove Presbyterian church at the age of eighteen and was a devoted and consistent christian.
Mr. and Mrs. VanArsdale and the family have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement, as the death of Mrs. Williams adds the third daughter who has answered the last call within the past two years.

The funeral took place from the Pleasant Grove church on Monday and was conducted by the pastor Rev. W. T. Overstreet.
The remains were laid to rest in the Grove cemetery.

years and has made many friends
here who hope he and Mrs.
Nelson will conclude that there is no better place to live than in old Kentucky.

Physician's Notice.

The physicians of Washington county devoted their last meeting to a discussion of the problem of the betterment of the profession, and of the means necessary to properly equip themselves individually and collectively to do better work and to give their patients a higher class of service.
Medical science is advancing more rapidly than any other branch of human knowledge. A medical book over five years old is out of date. Instruments and appliances are constantly improving. Time was when a pair of saddle pockets and a lancet and a few needles, made up the doctor's outfit, today an elaborate and expensive equipment is a necessity.
It is our opinion that the chief obstacle to the average physician properly equipping himself for the best class of service, of which he is capable is the lack of means. We live in an age of high prices. Everything we eat and wear comes higher than a few years ago, while the prices for physicians services in this county are lower than formerly. In view of these facts we have fixed on a schedule of prices, which will make a slight increase in our income, though with the exception of the increased price per visit in the town of Springfield, it is the same rate that was in operation here a few years ago.

It is our opinion that it is to the interest of every individual in the county to see to it that his physician is properly equipped to do good up-to-date practice. Your lives and the lives of your families depend on this.
You do not see many rich doctors.
Men grow rich in every other line of occupation, but if a doctor has made enough to support his family, and keep up his library and office equipment to the high water mark, he can be counted a success. You have seen no doctors in this county grow rich.

We stand as we have always stood, ready to our share of charity. No sufferer shall say of us that he has called on us in vain. But, charity aside, the laborer is worthy of his hire and the class of work the doctor is doing should merit more than a mere living.

Oil in Road Work.

EXPERT BELIEVES IT EXCELLENT FOR HARDENING SANDY HIGHWAYS.

Cost is About One-third That of Standard, or $1200 Per Mile. Says Kansas Professor—Several Practical Tests Made.

"Roadmaking with oil I believe to be a commercial success, which will in time be generally adopted in improving the sandy roads of the state." This is the opinion Professor Albert Dickens of the Kansas State Agricultural college, the man who for the past year has been assigned to the work of expending the $2500 appropriated by the last legislature for the purpose of experimenting in oil roadmaking, gave the Empire Journal.

"The cost of oiling a sandy road," said Professor Dickens while the guest of F. D. Johnson, secretary of the state board of agriculture, "will be about $1200 a mile. Some roads will cost more than others. This is only about one-third the cost of macadam, and where stone is not plentiful is much less than a third."

"We have constructed oil roads in four different parts of the state. Our most extensive experiment was near Garden City, where we oiled a little over a mile of road. The sandy soil absorbed vast quantities of oil. Four carloads were put into the road with a spraying cart. At Garden City we made nearly a mile of oil road, and we built short stretches at Manhattan and Maple Hill.

"Whether the oil in the roadways will have to be renewed remains to be seen. Of course there are certain portions of the oil which are volatile and will pass off into the air. But we use for this oiling only the heavy residue oil left after the kerosene and gasoline have been extracted. This oil is thick and heavy and works better than this oil."

"Up at Manhattan the people who own fast horses were so well pleased with the oil road that they have called the race track and claim that it makes their track one of the best in the state. Out at Garden City, where the sand is probably as heavy as any place in the state, the oil experiments are watched with the greatest interest. The whole of western Kansas will be benefited greatly if the oil road can be introduced into general use. There is a rich farming country tributary to Garden City, which is an excellent place to start from the town because of the heavy sand in the roads. The roads are so bad that a horse cannot haul more than ten barrels of wheat at a load. The farmers living near Garden City and the merchants in the town are taking of oiling the roads as a leading to this tributary country, so that the farmers can haul to town regardless of the sand."

"We have found that narrow tired wagons cut up the road badly after it has been oiled, while the wide tired wagons tend to make the road solid and firm. This is of course true to a great extent of the effect of the tire on ordinary roads."

"It is likely that the next legislature will be asked to continue the appropriation for oil road experiments in order that tests may be made in other portions of the state and establish fully the practicability of this method of good road making."

CALL FOR NATIONAL ROAD.

Appeal to Have Famous Highway Relieved by the Government.

The National Good Roads association, with headquarters at St. Louis, has sent out the following appeal to motorists, says the New York American.

"The National Good Roads association is a powerful force for good, and its work is accomplishing results in all parts of the United States. It is engaged in many things that will benefit the people. One of the greatest schemes it has in mind and which it has set about to carry out is the repair and rebuilding of the great national road across Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana."

"That memorable road was intended to be one of the highways between the east and the west before railroads were known. It was built at great expense, costing the federal government over $7,000,000, and during the early days was a famous highway over which thousands traveled every week. When railroads came, the road was neglected, and it is only a skeleton of what it once was."

"It is proposed to rebuild it, and the National Good Roads association has undertaken to have it done by the government. The length of the road is about 700 miles, and it can be rebuilt for less than $7,000,000. That is about the cost of one good battleship, and we are building one of them. The appropriation of that sum to make this old road across five states would do as much good as the building of a battleship for not one ship in ten will ever get into a fight. Then when the old road has been put in good shape, the Mississippi river it may be that the price of about three other battleships will be set aside to build the road to the Pacific coast."

"One first class continuous highway across the continent would be a great thing. Many of our roads are two or three months going and coming by team, bicycle, automobile or otherwise. It would be easy for the nation to do a thing like this."

"In 1905 150,000 Americans visited Europe and for the privilege of going over the first class European roads paid over $25,000,000."

TIED BOY TO TREE AND LET HIM FREEZE

An Inhuman Stepmother's Alleged Cruelty Costs a Child Both of His Legs.

The authorities of Jefferson county, in northern New York, have just had their eyes opened to a case of inhuman cruelty that happened there last winter ago and which, through some mysterious means, has been kept under cover ever since.

A small boy named Leon Tift has suffered the amputation of both legs as a result of being tied to a tree and provisioned. The child, while passing a toy shop was attracted by some toys dangling in front of the entrance and took two of them home, he said in the court, for his little sister, who had no toys. The child is so small that he had to be carried into the courtroom and after he was secured a bulky policeman took him screaming to the jail.

GIRL'S CLEVER COUP.

Becomes a Bride at Surprise Birthday Dinner.

Miss Violet B. Conrad, hearing of their plans, astonished guests by marrying at Hotel Where Dinner Was Given—Miss With Angel Face.

Capping the climax of a birthday surprise given for her the other night in the Hotel Knickerbocker at New York, Miss Violet Blossom Conrad, daughter of the late Major Casser, D. Conrad of the Eighth United States Infantry, turned the tables on her assembled friends by being married there and there to Charles Ridgely Elliott, says the New York Herald.

Their wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry M. Warren, chaplain of the hotel, who had been invited to the birthday party as one of the personal friends of Mr. Elliott.

Miss Conrad was twenty-two years old the other day. Her mother, desirous of giving her a pleasant birthday surprise, told Mrs. Jenks, wife of Colonel John M. Jenks, of the New York army, to give her a birthday party.

"My mother tied me to a tree and let me freeze," said the boy, left to freeze by his stepmother. At least that is the explanation given by the boy, and the authorities believe it.

The amputation took place some time ago and the boy has been out of the hospital and back to the county orphanage for several months. Just how a case of this nature could escape attention so long to one seems to be explained, but District Attorney Pitcher has taken the matter up with a determination to probe the cause to the bottom, and before he gets through some persons well thought of in northern New York may find themselves charged with complicity.

If it hadn't been for the annual visit of the county supervisors to the orphan asylum, the case wouldn't have come out even at this late date. They saw the legless boy sitting in a chair, unable to move, and asked him out of sympathy how he happened to lose his limbs.

"My mother tied me to a tree and let me freeze," said the boy, left to freeze by his stepmother. At least that is the explanation given by the boy, and the authorities believe it.

The supervisors were up in arms in a minute. They had assembled from all parts of the county, and the fact that no such case had ever received the attention of the authorities, the fact that the boy was only ten years old, and that he had had to take the burden of the woman's spite ever since children of her own came into the world.

"It was last February and a cold day, too, when she tied me to the tree," said the lad. "I hadn't done nothing to get such punishment for."

After the boy had remained in the cold for several hours the woman reappeared. When it was found his feet and legs were frozen his father and stepmother took him to a village hospital and left him there. Then they disappeared. He has never been from there since.

MAIMS HIS ONLY ARM BY FALLING

Worst Mutilated Soldier Consoling by Fact That Neck Is Still Whole.

"Cheerful Bill," the worst mutilated soldier living, has broken his arm, the only one he has. Bill lives at the Soldiers' home in the suburbs of Washington. He is stated as an invalid in the Eighth cavalry. Some thoughtful Indian gave him a perfect cast, which Bill humbly refers to as the original Cheyenne strip. Bill also maims one leg and one arm and is covered with wounds and sores. The leg Bill's mother, Mrs. Bill, shows several bullet wounds.

After his discharge from the regular army Bill remained in the rough riders and saw service in Cuba under President Roosevelt. The turning up of his physical being was then completed. As the result of participating in the peaceful pastime of falling on the sidewalk Bill is now nursing a broken arm. He says he is glad he has to realize the sensations of a broken neck.

Boy of Three Sent to Jail.

Great excitement was caused all over Switzerland when the news got abroad that the criminal judge at Neuchâtel, in the canton of Thurgau, had sentenced a child of three years to three and a half months' imprisonment.

The child, while passing a toy shop was attracted by some toys dangling in front of the entrance and took two of them home, he said in the court, for his little sister, who had no toys. The child is so small that he had to be carried into the courtroom and after he was secured a bulky policeman took him screaming to the jail.

A MATTER OF BUSINESS.

The Lesson a Vegetable Vendor Taught a Dazed Woman.

Only a single cabbage remained of the wagon load of produce with which the huckster had started in. It was a good load, and the keen witted huckster was alive to the chance of selling it, although the hour was late. As he glanced from side to side of the street, seeking a purchaser, he saw a woman in the New York Sun, he was hailed from a doorway by a housewife's cry:

"What are you selling?" "Where, Bill?" said the vendor to his home, and to the prospective customer he called, "Only one cabbage left, missus!"

"Is it a good one?" she asked. "Sure, as good as any ever came from Jersey." "How much do you want for it?" "It's worth a dime, lady, but I'll sell you for half, so you can have it for a nickel."

After pulling off some of the leaves to make sure the head was fresh and sound the woman handed the huckster a nickel. The coin was transferred to his pocket, already filled, and the cabbage was placed in the woman's arms.

As she turned to go another woman who had come by during the bargaining said to the merchant: "Got any cabbage?" "Yes, ma'am; one head left." "How much is it?" "Five cents."

"Is it a good head?" "Finest kind of Long Island cabbage." "The woman who had just bought the last head of cabbage was astonished by his calm assertion that he had one left when she knew the bottom of his cart was bare. She waited to see how he would satisfy the second woman."

When the last came said, "I'll take it," the huckster turned calmly to the owner of the cabbage, took it from her arms and handed it to the new customer. "At the same time he took her dime from her fingers."

As the first woman stood with mouth open, too astonished to protest, she seemed walked away. Then the woman deprived of her cabbage found voice to say indignantly, "That was my cabbage! How?" The huckster interrupted her with:

"Yes, ma'am; I know it. Here's the dime I got you for it. You're a nickel in."

"I didn't want to sell it!" "I didn't want to sell it!" he exclaimed in a sorrowful tone. "Sure you did when you could make a profit like that. Never miss a chance when you can make a profit. That's the way to get rich."

"Here's your dime," said the woman, still dazed, took the dime he said, "Got up, Bill!"

The Vote Was Secured.

An ex-M. P. who contested a highland constituency some years ago in the following manner:

Once, after a long and fatiguing day's canvass, I tackled a dissenting minister, who was very keen upon the subject of getting the highest place in the world, and in pursuance of his favorite hobby he asked me:

"Well, sir, what are you prepared to do about the bishops?" "I was irritated and fatigued by my day's work, and I testily muttered, 'Oh, hush the bishops!'"

The Minister bowed and replied: "Oh, sir, you have a good mind there, I can undertake to go all together that length with you, but you shall not call me a bishop."

The Rising Tide.

A rather stout lady was enjoying a bath at Scarborough. She kept a tight hold of the bathing machine rope and gave quite a jolting screech as each wave of the incoming tide tried in vain to lift her from her feet. On the sands close by a countryman paying his first visit to the seaside. As the tide lay's suit was ruined. Flesh and blood could stand it no longer. Jumping up, he shouted in a voice which completely drowned a nigger minstrel's dirge: "Hi, Paddy! If the dunlop stop they blessed boppin' thall be droonin' folk!"—London.
